Adolf Hitler

- "The streets of our country are in turmoil. The universities are filled with students rebelling and rioting. Communists are seeking to destroy our country. Russia is threatening us with her might, and the Republic is in danger. Yes - danger from within and without. We need law and order! Without it our nation cannot survive." - Adolf Hitler, 1932

- Hitler put fear into peoples lives because he wanted to eliminate the Jewish population.
  - The Jews feared for their lives everywhere that they went because there were people who would have sent them to the officials.
  - Because of his fear of communism he wanted to execute anyone who opposed his decisions for communism not to take place in his country.

- The government made war bonds available for everyone to support the war, but they also used fear to persuade people.
  - They were bought out of fear for safety. People felt that they were not safe from the enemy unless they supported the war.

Don't Let That Shadow Touch Them
Buy WAR BONDS

- This form of propaganda shows how people wanted to support the war. They used this poster to make parents feel they needed to protect their children by buying war bonds.
  - The children seem to be in danger and parents fear for their safety.

- This poster shows fear in the wife because her husband is going to war.
  - She fears that her kid may not ever see her father again and neither will she.
  - This was the most common fear within the women society because they feared and worried for their husbands, brothers, cousins, and fathers.
  - This poster was appealing to women of all ages.

- This propaganda poster shows fear in this women who looks like a Jew because the officials were going to take her and her baby away to a concentration camp.
  - This poster would appeal to mostly mothers of the Jewish race because they were undergoing a bad experience with the Nazi army.
